Plaintiff Dan Oliver, a Virginia prisoner proceeding pro se, filed this civil rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 but did not pay the filing fee. At least three of Oliver’s previous actions have been dismissed as frivolous, malicious, or for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.<sup>1</sup> Therefore, Oliver may not proceed with this action unless he either prepays the filing fee or shows that he is “under imminent danger of serious physical injury.”<sup>2</sup> 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). Because Oliver has neither prepaid the filing fee nor demonstrated that he is “under imminent danger of serious physical injury,”<sup>3</sup> the court will dismiss his complaint without prejudice under § 1915(g).

<sup>1</sup> See e.g., Oliver v. Braxton, No. 1:01cv121 (E.D. Va. Mar. 30, 2001) (dismissed for failure to state a claim); Oliver v. Taylor, No.1:01cv221 (E.D. Va. Mar. 30, 2001) (dismissed for failure to state a claim); Oliver v. Braxton, No.1:01cv568 (E.D. Va. May 16, 2001) (dismissed for failure to state a claim). See also Oliver v. Osborne, 75 F. App’x 209 (4th Cir. 2003) (affirming dismissal under § 1915(g)).

<sup>2</sup> The court notes that Oliver has been advised of his three-striker status on multiple occasions by this court. See e.g., Oliver v. Osborne, No. 7:03cv683 (W.D. Va. Oct. 22, 2003); Oliver v. Young, No. 7:18cv525 (W.D. Va. Oct. 30, 2018); and Oliver v. Unknown, No. 7:19cv56 (W.D. Va. Jan. 29, 2019).

<sup>3</sup> Oliver alleges that the defendant jail officials are depriving him of $502 million that they owe him for nine books he has written since 2017. He needs the money so that he can “write such book[s] as poems of wisdom [and] unbelievably crazy joke[s] and other NEW up-coming book[s], like a creative letter book[] for writing interesting letter[s].” (Compl. at 2 [ECF No. 1].) As relief, Oliver asks the court to order the defendants to pay him $502 million. Oliver’s allegations do not suggest that he is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.

The Clerk is directed to send a copy of this Memorandum Opinion and the accompanying Order to Oliver.

ENTERED this 31st day of January, 2024.
